EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Harry Sommers is fishing again this season, but not in the Gulf of Mexico.

It would be a pity to have to send von Bernstorff home. We've learned to like him.

There are indications that we will stop seining for minnows in Mexico, for awhile at least.

The Williams impeachment trial drags its slow length along at an expense of $500 a day.

That Villa story didn't fool anybody. Funston is from Kansas and Kansas adjoins Missouri.

Roosevelt's plans are being carefully laid to capture two nominations for President at Chicago, in June.

If we have to handle two wars at once, we might turn Mexico over to Texas. The Lone Star boys did it once.

The French have captured the submarine which torpedoed the Sussex and have made prisoners the captain and crew.

Forty-two seniors of Princeton University say they have never been kissed. The strange part is that all but 42 should have fessed up.

The pursuit of Villa is at a temporary halt while matters of more importance are being settled at Washington. Villa has escaped, most likely with the aid of Carranza forces. It would be just as well to occupy Vera Cruz and other ports, to remain until Carranza makes good his boast that he can catch Villa.

Alonzo Miley and wife separated and in dividing their household goods got into a row at Petersburg, Ind., in which Miley was attacked by his mother-in-law, his wife and sister-in-law, one of them flourishing a revolver. With a bed slat he broke the arms of two of the women and knocked the other unconscious.

The Louisville Board of Trade's spring trade extension trip next month will cover West and Middle Tennessee exclusively, according to the itinerary announced by Secretary William E. Morrow, and overnight stops will be made by the "heads of houses" special in Memphis, Nashville and Fayetteville. They will touch Clarksville in the round and will probably find it hard to resist the temptation to come to town.

STEP FOR FREE SEWERAGE

Expert To Appraise Franchise System and Submit Estimate.

STREET IMPROVEMENT Given Its First Passage and Property Owners To Be Conferred With.

The meeting of the City Commission Tuesday was without especial importance, except that an ordinance was given its first passage providing for the permanent improvement of South Main street from 12th to the city limits, with bitulithic, asphalt, brick or wooden blocks, under the ten-year-payment plan. It is proposed to take the sense of the people interested on the character of street to be built and bring the ordinance up for further consideration at the end of thirty days.

An expert was employed to report on the cost of constructing a sewerage system and also to appraise the present system with the view of entering into negotiations for its purchase on or before the next purchasing period April 7, 1920. The present franchise expires in 1925.

GERMAN CRISIS LAID BEFORE THE CONGRESS

STREET OIL AND WATER

Two Sets of Advocates Have Widely Divergent Views.

SOME ONE, SOME OTHER

Water Advocates in the Majority at Monday Night Meeting.

A meeting of the residents on South Main and South Virginia streets, was held at the H. B. M. A. Monday night to consider the dust situation.

Last year the territory from 12th street south to and including Alumnae avenue was sprinkled by contract by M. C. Boyd & Co., for about $1,100, each property owner paying $8. The sprinklers ran twice a day on week days and once on Sunday.

There were 55 persons represented in the meeting Monday night and 34 voted for water sprinkling again and 21 for oil. The same contract made last year can be made again this year for water, but there is much difference of opinion on the kind of sprinkling. Nearly all of the property owners on Main street out to 17th prefer oil and some are very emphatic in saying that they will not take water at any price. Other citizens in the same territory and beyond say they will not have the oil at any price. These, however, are exceptions and most of the people are willing to take whichever the majority votes for. Nothing was accomplished at the meeting held, except committee were appointed to canvass the territory and get an expression from all who were absent. The water advocates will try to raise the required amount, even if they have to pay for those who refuse to help. The oil advocates from 12th to 17th streets are planning to get an estimate on the cost of oil for 5,000 square yards, about 2,500 to 3,000 gallons for one application and the same quantity for a second application in the fall. The last time street oil was purchased here the price was a little less than 6 cents delivered and shipment were made in 6,000-gallon tanks.

SCHILLER GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Man Who Seized English Steamer at Sea Pleads Guilty.

Wilmington, Del., April 19.—Ernest Schiller, alias Clarence R. Hudson, who forcibly took possession of the British steamer Matoppo off Sandy Hook on March 29, terrorized the crew and compelled the captain to change the ship's course, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the United States District Court here late today. He will be taken to the Federal prison at Atlanta in a few days.

Schiller this morning pleaded guilty to the charge of piracy. In a statement he denied that his motive was robbery. He declared that he had seized the Matoppo, believing the vessel carried munitions of war for the Entente Allies, "for the cause of Germany."

ULTIMATUM AND BREAK IN RELATIONS MOST LIKELY

Message President Has Been Working On Has Been For Congress and Not to Dispatch to Germany, as Generally Supposed.

Count von Bernstorff, Seeking to Learn Position of the United States, Is Refused an Audience by Secretary Lansing.

Washington, Apr. 19.—President Wilson laid the submarine crisis before congress today.

In the hall of the house of representatives at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, with congress seated before him in joint session, the president spoke the last words of the United States to Germany in the grave situation which has kept the two nations on the brink of a break for nearly a year.

Developments, yet undisclosed and of the most solemn importance, are expected to follow quickly.

An ultimatum to Germany and even the severance of diplomatic relations are two most likely eventualities.

VON BERNSTORFF REFUSED INTERVIEW.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, calling upon Secretary Lansing by direction of his government, almost the moment the president was arranging the joint session of congress, was informed that the secretary could not discuss the situation with him at this time. It was evident that the ambassador was seeking information of the American government's plans and that it had been decided he should not have it.

The ambassador did state, however, to Secretary Lansing that while under no circumstances, could Germany give up the submarine because it was being used in retaliation for Great Britain's food blockade, his country would attempt to use the submarines in accordance with the international law and Germany's assurances to the United States. He added that in any case where instructions to submarine commanders were violated repudiation would be made, in accordance with assurances given in the Lusitania, Arabic and other cases.

Secretary Lansing told the ambassador he would see him again in a few days.

VON BERNSTORFF STILL OPTIMISTIC.

When the ambassador learned of arrangement for the joint session of congress he apparently was as much surprised as the remainder of official Washington. Optimistic throughout, even when the diplomatic negotiations seemed in tight corners and the much discussed break appeared to be imminent, the ambassador's confidence remained unshaken that friendly relations between his country and the United States would continue. He expressed his opinion that everything would come out all right in the end.

Administration officials reflected President Wilson's determination to have an ending to diplomatic negotiations which they feel, have brought only promises which have been unfulfilled and assurances which have turned out to be of disputed meaning. There is only one instance in modern diplomatic history in which a breaking off of diplomatic relations between two first class powers has not eventually been followed by war. It is the breaking of relations between Germany and Italy, and it stands alone as a precedent against what diplomatists regard as inevitable.

ONLY CONGRESS CAN DECLARE WAR.

President Wilson's purpose in going before congress is explained by the fact that while the executive branch of the government has power to break diplomatic relations, congress alone has the power to declare war, and the president feels, therefore, that it should be advised of an action in which it may subsequently be called upon to bear a part.

NEPHEW OF WASHINGTON

Court House Filled With Appreciative Crowd to Hear Colored Orator.

Roscoe Conkling Simmons, a nephew of Booker Washington, and a negro orator of great importance, spoke at the Court House Monday night under the auspices of the Douglass Club. Ned Turner, President, presided and Walter Robinson introduced the speaker. Blakemore's orchestra made music.

Simmons is an orator of recognized ability and his speech was an appeal to the colored people to have higher ideals in every way and to make of themselves useful, respectable and honored citizens as so many have done here in Hopkinsville. He also pleaded for harmony and mutual sympathy between the races, showing how this has always existed in individual instances as each white man has one or more negroes upon whom he relies implicitly for help when he needs it and every colored man has a white man friend to who he goes when in need or trouble. But he urged that the good conditions not stop there but be extended to take in the two races as a whole.

In closing he complimented Phil Brown, saying he was a prominent figure in his race not only in Hopkinsville or Kentucky but of the nation.

ART EXHIBIT AT LIBRARY

Began Yesterday and Continues Throughout Saturday.

The Art Exhibit at the Carnegie Library of paintings by Chicago artists, began yesterday and will continue every day until Saturday from 2 to 5 p. m. and also tonight the exhibit will be open.

Each afternoon some one will be at the Library to give information about the paintings.

Three of the pictures in this exhibit that are much admired are "Peaceful Valley," which is so restful to your eye and feelings that you never could grow tired of the picture; "The Evergreens," which are beautiful cedars shown with the last showy rays of sunlight in their tops and the clouds in the distance have caught the light on their top edges, while the rest of the earth is in twilight; "The Mountains of Santa Barbara," which is grand to behold!

The only artist from Kentucky who is represented at the Exhibit is Walter Ufer, who was born in Louisville. He paints in the southwestern part of the United States from June to December of each year. The three pictures he has here on exhibition are paintings of this great southwest. One of the results of the war, perhaps, is a sharp advance in the price of paintings by good American artists. The beauty of the best American landscapes is just beginning to be

CHRISTIAN HAS SIXTY

Teachers In Attendance at Annual Session of K. E. A.

WAS OPENED LAST NIGHT

Continues Throughout Today With Gov. Stanley a Speaker.

Louisville's biggest annual convention, that of the Kentucky Educational Association, which is the largest organization of its kind in the world, began its sessions at the First Christian church at 8 o'clock last night. The opening programme will consist of "An Evening With Cale Young Rice," the noted Kentucky poet, and it will be the only session of the entire convention open to the public.

The Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, was chairman of the evening and Henry Watterson honorary chairman. Mr. Rice himself gave a reading, and he selected for the occasion three of his poems, "To the Younger Generation," "The Monsoon Breaks" and "The Mystic." He had intended reading only the first poem, but yielded to numerous requests to read also the other two. Another feature of the programme was the appearance of Miss Ida M. Tarbell, of New York.

The Kentucky Educational Association has a paid membership of approximately 3,700 and an associate membership of about 1,000 more. Practically all the members and associate members attend the annual conventions, as well as from 1,000 to 2,000 other instructors from over the State.

All school authorities in the State are co-operating this year in making the convention memorable. Gov. Stanley will speak to-day.

Both white and colored teachers attend these meetings and Hopkinsville is represented by the following:

RUSSIANS TAKE TREBIZOND

Gives Russians Control of Trade Outlet for Persia and All Central Asia.

FLEET AIDS LAND FORCES

Fortress Reported to Have Been Garrisoned by 54,000 Men.

Petrograd, April 19.—Trebizond, the most important Turkish city on the Black sea, has been captured by the Russians.

The fall of the city is confirmed in an official communication issued late today.

IMPORTANT PORT IN BLACK SEA

Trebizond is a city of Asia Minor on the Black sea, 575 miles east of Constantinople and 100 miles north of Erzerum, the town stormed by Russians on Feb. 16. Trebizond has a population of about 40,000, including some 18,000 Christians.

The importance of the Black sea port was due to its command of the port where the chief trade route from Persia and central Asia descends to the sea. It is separated from the rest of Asia Minor by a barrier of rugged mountains, 7,000 to 8,000 feet high, which the Russian armies had to traverse.

Aided by the Russian fleet, the invaders pushed past the last series of natural obstacles along the coast when, on Sunday, they occupied a strongly fortified Turkish position on the left bank of the Kara Dere, 12 miles outside of the fortress.

Since the fall of Erzerum and the capture three weeks later of Bitlis the Turks are said to have increased the Trebizond garrison until it contained three complete divisions, or about 54,000 men, and to have done everything possible to strengthen the Black sea port.

IN VIRGIN TERRITORY

County Agent Visits Neighborhoods Anxious For Agricultural Talks.

Agriculturist A. M. Casey, accompanied by Otis Kireher, State Agent of Pig Club work, has visited some new fields of work this week. Monday night they held a largely attended meeting at Kelly, probably 125 people being present.

Mr. Casey talked to the people about the importance of more grass on their hillside to stop washes and incidentally of the money to be made in live stock and especially in fruits, for which North Christian is well adapted. A diversity of crops would make farming much more profitable in that part of the county. He also told them about the poultry work, the corn clubs and other lines. Mr. Kireher talked about the pig clubs and the people showed a lively interest in all that was said.

On Tuesday night they held a similar meeting in the Sinking Fork neighborhood and about the same line of talk was indulged in.

Good results are expected from these visits to localities that have not had meetings of the kind heretofore.

Enforcement of the negro segregation ordinance of St. Louis was enjoined by the federal district court.The U. D. C. organization has petitioned Congress to officially designate the States."The Bowling Green Post T. P. A. is boosting W. C. Sumpter for president and is after the 1917 meeting. The Post has 140 members and will have a big delegation here on the 28th and 29th.But little credence is given the report that Villa is dead. The attempt of the Carranza leaders to palm off the decomposed body of another Mexican as that of Villa, is in keeping with the general character of Mexicans.The Supreme Court of the United States ordered the reargument of the Louisville segregation ordinance. The opinion is expressed in Washington that the case is of such importance that Chief Justice White perhaps desires a full bench to hear the argument.The Henderson Fiscal Court is being referred to in anything but a complimentary manner, as a body that refused to appoint a commission to handle road bond funds. As a result, the friends of the road proposition will defeat the $400,000 bond issue, rather than see the money get into the court's hands.In the communication approved by the President as the last word to Germany on the submarine question, he reviews Germany's submarine activities since the Lusitania was sunk almost a year ago and makes plain that only an immediate change in the German policy can make possible the continuance of friendly relations between the two nations.Capt. Franz von Papen, recalled military attache to the German ambassa-dy at Washington, was indicted by the federal grand jury at New York as the organizer and financier of an alleged conspiracy to blow up the Welland canal in Canada. With him also were indicted Capt. Hans Taus-cher, alleged agent of the Krupps in the United States and husband of Mme. Johanna Galski, the prima dona;

Constantine Govani, Alfred J.
Fritzen and another man whose name has not been revealed. Von Papen was designated by federal authorities as the "brains" of the alleged conspiracy.In an address welcoming the Daughters of the American Revolution, gathered in Washington for their annual congress, President Wilson declared that the only excuse America ever can have for the assertion of her physical force is that she asserts it in behalf of humanity. He was speaking of the purpose of the republic—born to serve the rest of the world just as much as itself—and had just said that the nation will have forgotten such traditions whenever she fights merely for herself under such circumstances as will show that she had forgotten to fight for all mankind.
The president was enthusiastically applauded. When he was introduced by Mrs. William Cummings Storey, president-general of the organization, the audience stood and cheered and many of the women waved the American flags.

COULD NOT HAVE HER LOVE

Young Lady's Objections to the Advances of Her Wooer Were Based on Solid Reasoning.A pacifist said at a dinner: "I find that the people themselves, not the capitalists, are to blame for the continuance of war. With this specious excuse and that, the people reject universal peace.""In short, the people treat pacifism as the pretty girl treated the shipping clerk.""No, I can't marry you," she said to the shipping clerk after he had proposed. "You see, you are too extravagant.""Me extravagant?" shouted the shipping clerk. "Me? Why, on the contrary, dearest one, I'm very economical. I have to be.""Then more than ever I feel," she said, "that I cannot be your wife.""You can't be my wife because I'm economical?" he gasped, bewildered by her shifts and changes."No; oh, dear, no," she answered
"But because you have to be."

NEW TINT OF COMPLEXION

Peach Pink Is the Color Just Now Affected by the Fair Parisiennes.The pretty girls with their rosy faces passed and repassed for some time before I realized that, one and all, they wore exactly the same shade of rose, or rather pink—a bland, peachy sort of pink with almost a tinge of salmon. Could this be a new complexion? I sat up, forgetting my faintness, while peach pink face after peach pink face came and went.Two days later on l'Avenue du Bois de Boulogne I encountered the same coloring—every face "rouged," so to speak, with the same brush. One little Parisienne wore a close low turban of peach pink satin, quite untrimmed, which exactly matched her complexion. The effect was very odd, and quite different from that of some seasons ago, when the oriental idea reigned supreme. Now, instead of the "houris," we have the Sevres statuette to go with the new gowns.—

THE ARMY TITLE ORIGINS

Names of Official Positions Go Back to Greek and Roman Days—Some Curious Derivatives.An article on the origin of the names of weapons of war has led us to speculate idly on the origin of rank in the army, with more or less interesting results.We find that "private" comes from the Latin "privatus," meaning deprived. Probably that's because the humble private is deprived of the privileges of his officers; or maybe it is because he is deprived of his freedom.
At any rate the Latin term is prettier than the Greek. The Greek private soldier was called "idiotēs" and he was supposed to be so ignorant that we derive the word "idiot" from him.
"Corporal" is corrupted from "cap-oral" and its root is the same as that of "captain," from "captū," a head. The corporal is a sort of head private, in theory. A sergeant is higher rank, but the derivation of his title is lower; for "sergeant" is from the low Latin "servilens," meaning a servant."Captain," we have considered; its earlier form is "capitan" and it is thus in the Spanish. "Lieutenant" is "locum tenens"—one who takes another's place. The old English form was "leftenant," and from that pronunciation "leftenant" still lingers in England. "Major" is simply the Latin word for "greater" and "mayor" is only another form of the word in a different application. "Colonel" is from the Italian "colonnella," meaning a little column. How the little column or regiment, gave its name to the commander thereof is somewhat uncertain. "Cadet" is an interesting word. It comes from the Gascon "capdet" and means a little captain, or the youthful member of a "head family."—Cleveland Plain Deal-

At mobilization they were commandeered and have been used in transporting meat and other provisions. New French-made chassis have taken their places and the government sold the old trucks. Hereafter all imported trucks will be "run to destruction" and then replaced by domestic product. France announces its intention of using no more imported trucks in the war.Sherman's Phrase Indorsed.

FISHERS FEAR MONSTER EEL

Giant Deep-Sea Reptile Attacks Men, as Well as Destroying the Shellfish.

Fishermen not only hate the monster murena—they fear him. He robs the sea of shellfish and other inhabitants that the fishermen want him to leave for their nets. In addition, he isn't backward about attacking a fisherman now and then. This bold outlaw received its name from the Romans.

The murena is a deep-sea eel. His weapons of attack are two rows of sharp teeth, strong enough to crush the hard-shelled fish on which he feeds. They range in size from snake-like creatures, about a foot long, in the Mediterranean, to monsters six and eight feet long.

These giants the fisherman fears, for they will attack him either in or out of the water. Their bodies are spotted or decorated in varied colors.

For the most part these eels inhabit seas in the tropic or temperate zones, but a few will ascend rivers where there are tides.

REALLY CALL OF THE WILD

Physician Describes Spring Fever Feeling as Return of Primitive Impulse in Man.

Spring fever is not a disease, but an expression of a desire to chuck one's job and answer the call to the wild, according to Dr. W. A. Sawyer, secretary of the California state board of health.

"Whether man is descended from a monkey or from Adam and Eve, who roamed about the Garden of Eden, there is that inherent longing to play and bask in the sun when spring first appears," said Doctor Sawyer. "It is certain that our forefathers, whether man or monkey, used to celebrate the opening of spring by lazily basking in the sun, and it is that longing on our part to do likewise which we call spring fever."

PASSPORT TO THE FRONT.

The only passport to the front which it not fraught with a thousand difficulties is a simple little telegram. With it a woman—it is nearly always a woman—can leave London, get aboard ship, pass through Boulogne, and arrive at the front without any other document, the London Chronicle states. But it is not a passport that any woman would wish to have, for that little telegram is sent only to the relative of some soldier abroad who is dangerously ill.

The church army has a special branch which looks after the woman who receives the sad summons. The army sisters meet her in London; she stays the night, if need be, in one of their homes. She is escorted to the train for the front, and is met at Boulogne. She gets to the base hospital, and then her dear boy sees her and smiles happily, and, perhaps, receives his last promotion. But very often these dangerous cases recover, and there are joyous hours before the journey home is made.

The war office helps women in very poor circumstances, and the church army frequently makes the way easy, too.

NO ESCAPE.

"Do you think you will succeed in arresting that criminal who writes you impudent letters?"

"Yes," replied the police officer; "if we don't get him on this charge we'll get him on something else. I understand he uses an automobile, and sooner or later he's bound to get arrested under the traffic regulations."

London, April. 19.—On the front in France inclement weather has impeded the activity of the troops around Verdun, in all the sectors of which there have been only intermittent bombardments. The only infantry attacks in France or Belgium have taken place along the British end of the line where at several points the British have entered German trenches or shaken off German attempts at attack.

The artillery duel around Ikskull bridgehead between the Germans and Russians is still in progress but no material advantage in the fighting is claimed by either side. Petrograd reports the repulse of Teuton attacks in Galicia and Popovomogila and the capture of large quantities of war materials.

The Italians in mining operations in western top of the Col di Lana destroyed an Austrian position and occupied the mine crater over which fighting now is in progress. In the Sugana valley the Austrians have driven the Italians from advance positions. Elsewhere along the line there have been only artillery engagements.

Beauty in the Mexican's Voice.

Next to the love of dress I was most struck with the fineness of the voice and the beauty of intonations of both sexes (of the Mexicans). It is a pleasure simply to listen to the sound of the language, before I could attach any meaning to it. They have a good deal of the creole drawl, but it is varied with an occasional extreme rapidity of utterance, in which they seem to skip from consonant to consonant, until, lighting upon a broad open vowel, they rest upon that to restore the balance of sound. A common bullock driver delivering a message seemed to speak like an ambassador at an audience. In fact, they sometimes appeared to me to be a people on whom a curse had fallen and stripped them of everything but their pride, their manner and their voices.—From "Three Years Before the Mast," by R. H. Dana.

Patient At Hospital.

Henderson, Ky., April 19.—A suit was filed here by attorneys of the Western State hospital, at Hopkinsville, against Mrs. Esther Cheaney and the Farmers Bank & Trust Co., committee for Mrs. Cheaney, for $762.50, alleged to be due for board and treatment at that institution since 1911.

The petition states that the defendant, Esther Cheaney, was sent to the hospital in 1910 and paid for board and treatment until 1911. Since that time nothing has been paid, wherefore the plaintiff asks for judgment.

Messrs. C. R. Clark Co.,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

Dear Sirs:-

To-day I am shipping you 10 Bbls. Potatoes, 5 eating and 5 seed, GENUINE FLORIDA YAMS.

I wish to call your special attention to this potato, for the benefit of your trade. This potato will grow on most any kind of soil, even thin land, or soils, also it is one of the best keeping potatoes on the market, grows medium in size and very firm in texture. For table use it cannot be excelled for any use required. It has been known to make above 200 Bu. per acre. You can sell this potato and recommend it to the top and stand behind it. I am very glad to have you get some of the seed. When you once get this potato started it is hard to sell anything else. When these potatoes arrive it will be a good idea for you to have the cover removed in order that they may get plenty of air, etc., as it will make same keep better. I will ask that you give me your orders at least 3 days before you need same as we are now rushed to death packing out. I would not be surprised to see potatoes much higher in a few days. Notice that Chicago has advanced 25c per Bu. Market active and strong. Give me your order not later than the first of next week, or the latter part of this, to be shipped out next week and I think I can save you in price.

Most respectfully,
A. B. Bryant.

RANGERS

Carry Two and a Half Pound Telephone.

Washington, April 18.—A portable telephone, made of aluminum and weighing 2½ pounds, the invention of a Forest officer, R. B. Adams, of Missoula, Montana, will be a part of the regular equipment of patrolmen on the National Forests the coming season. This instrument is regarded as a great improvement over the set formerly used, which weighed ten pounds.

It is said that a field man equipped with this telephone, a few yards of light emergency wire, and a short piece of heavy wire to make the ground connection can cut in anywhere along the more than 20,000 miles of Forest Service telephone lines and get in touch with the headquarters of a supervisor or district ranger. To talk, one end of the emergency wire is thrown over the telephone line, the two ends are connected to the portable instrument, and the instrument is connected to the ground wire, the end of which must be thrust into the damp earth or in water. Contact with the line wire is made possible by removal of the insulation from a few inches of the emergency wire.

The Adams instrument does not ring the bell of the receiving telephone, but instead causes a screeching sound from a small megaphone-shaped apparatus descriptively known as a "howler." This instrument is installed at the range station telephone and is said to effective notice that some one is on the line. If the field man needs to talk with some one elsewhere on the line, the ranger station instrument can be used to ring up the person wanted, when the conversation can be carried on.

Forest officers say that these portable phones are especially valuable in reporting fires and other emergencies with the least possible delay, and also in sending instructions to field men and keeping the district rangers informed as to the progress of work going on in the field, thus supplementing the regular telephone sets installed at lookout points, ranger stations, and at convenient intervals along Forest Service roads and trails.

FREE—"Europe at War"

A big book and over 300 pages, size 10 x 7 inches, handsomely and durably bound in cloth, containing the dramatic history of the great events leading up to the present time; over 50 important and timely special articles by experts on the different phases of the conflict; hundreds of graphic pictures, portraits, photographs, diagrams, specially drawn war maps, illuminating statistical records, copies of official documents and diplomatic messages exchanged between the powers—a clear, vivid, accurate, permanent, interesting and valuable record—a record which once seen you will not willingly be without. Europe's past and present are here dramatically pictured and presented. Hundreds of illustrations graphically tell their own stories. More fascinating than any romance, here is a history so vivid, so dramatic, so stirring, so fascinating, so realistic, so wonderfully presented, so thrillingly told that it leaves an ineffable impression.

WHO ARE MEXICAN PEOPLE?

They Had Civilization Before Spanish Explorers Entered Continent—Mixtures of Races.

There are still numbers of Americans who are under the misapprehension that the Mexican is some kind of negro—or, at least, that there is a strong infusion of African blood, as in Haiti. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Not only is there less African blood in Mexico than in the United States, in proportion to population, but there is less even after you have eliminated our black belt. Many better informed persons refer to the native Mexicans as Indians. But they are not Indians—as we know Indians. True, here and there in the mountainous regions are found tribes of semi-savages who compare with the native peoples of what is now the United States, says the World Outlook. But they figure in national affairs little more than our own pure-blood Cherokees et al. figure here. When the Spanish conqueror came the bulk of the aboriginal Mexicans were not savages, but a civilized people, as far removed from the wild nomads of North America as the white races themselves. This aboriginal Mexican element is variously estimated as representing from one-third to one-half the population, by some guessers even more. It has furnished some of the most learned scholars and exalted patriots celebrated in Mexican history. The greater part of the remaining population is made up of mixed Spanish and aboriginal blood, from which is derived the term, "Spanish-American." It is to this mixture of European and Aztec that is attributed the peculiar traits of the "Spanish-American character," and the supposedly woeful inferiority of our neighbors to the southward.

ST. JOHN'S EVE CUSTOMS

Brittany Village Folk Kindle Great Bonfires and Maidens Use Charms To Get Husbands.

Some of the customs of St. John's eve in Brittany are as quaint as they are picturesque. In many villages giant bonfires are built, and round them, in a circle, seats are placed for the departed. The cure has charge of kindling fire, or, where it is possible, a boy dressed as an angel is let down the bell tower by means of a pulley, and lifted up out of sight again after he has applied a lighted faggot to the pile.

To insure getting a husband before the end of the year the village maidens dance round nine bonfires, and return home to dream of the young man destined for them. At midnight they rise and lay the table with bread and cheese and garlic, and throw the front door wide open. There is no obligation for them to accept whoever is the first to enter, but it often happens that they do, for the right man is not likely to miss his chance. If indeed, he appears, the parents are quickly called in to give their consent to a betrothal, which takes place there and then.

Swiss Move of Importance.

The Swiss federal council recently authorized the creation of the Société Suisse de Surveillance. It will be composed of fifteen Swiss appointed by the council and chosen from the various cantons where German, French and Italian are spoken. The organization will supervise the importation of supplies and materials required for home consumption and to provide Swiss industries with material. It will exercise no control over the importation of metals, which is in charge of a separate syndicate under government control.

French Colonial Possessions.

The French possession of Indo-China comprises the colony of Cochinchina, the protectorates of Cambodia, Annam, Tonkin and Laos, and the territory of Kwong-Chow-Wan, leased from China—an area embracing approximately 310,000 square miles. The population is estimated at 18,000,000, of which about 35,000 are Europeans, the rest being natives, savage tribesmen, Chinese, Malays, and Hindoos. The principal city as well as the principal port of entry is Saigon, Cochinchina. There are now 1,378 miles of railroad operated in Indo-China.

Modern War Conditions.

The sword is the costliest single article in the equipment a subaltern officer of the British army must buy, and since under present conditions this weapon is worn only when royal reviews the troops that form of celebration is proving none too welcome in the new armies. Presumably grandchildren of veterans sixty years or so hence will weep over the dear little rusty tin can in which the old hero carried his bouillon to the battle line at Mons.

Gets Soft Wood From America.

China draws its principal supplies of soft woods from the United States and Japan. In 1913, the last year for which figures are available, China imported from the United States approximately 79,700,000 feet board measure, valued at $1,500,000. These imports were more than twice the amount of the preceding year and 16,000,000 feet in excess of 1910.

Germany Has 2,500 Ambulance Dogs. At a meeting of the German Ambulance Dogs association it was stated that the number of trained dogs owned by the association at the beginning of the war was only eight, but that the number was now 2,500.

Dumb Chills and Fever.

Douglasville, Tex.—"Five years ago I was caught in the rain at the wrong time," writes Miss Elin Ruthford, of Douglasville, "and from that time was taken with dumb chills and fevers and suffered more than I can tell. I tried everything that I thought would help, and I had four different doctors, but got no relief, so I began to take Cardui. Now I feel better than in many months." Cardui does one thing, and does it well. That's the secret of its 50 years of success. As a tonic there is nothing in the drug store like it. As a remedy for women's ills, it has no equal. Try it. Help Keep Them Clean.

It is an old custom in Bohemian bakeries to wipe the boots of visitors as they enter. There is a good deal of wiping these days; for the government and city officials inspect the bakeries at very frequent intervals in order to see that the regulations regarding the amount of flour used in bread are carried out.—Popular Science Monthly.

Make Punctuality a Habit.

Somebody said that the man who was always on time spent half his life waiting for the other man. Perhaps that is so; yet the fact is no excuse for those who are habitually late. And really it is quite as easy to be on time as it is to be late, if we only make punctuality a habit.

ANCIENTS HAD SHORTHAND

The System Used by Old Romans and Hebrews Was Not Based on Phonetics Like Ours.

We are told in a recent story, that not only the Romans, but the ancient Hebrews, possessed fine systems of stenography, and that public men took stenographers with them wherever they went. This is not true in any strict sense, the New York Mail states. The ancient Romans and Hebrews had systems of shorthand, but not all stenography. Their shorthand consisted of abbreviations, the use of letters for words, the introduction of arbitrary systems, and that kind of things. No system of phonetic stenography, such as we have at the present day, in which a fluent character represents a certain sound, and in accordance with which the sounds of human speech can be transcribed as they are uttered, was known to the ancients. The shorthand system invented by Ciro, the secretary of Cicero, is well known; it has no phonetic basis. Two amanuenses were necessary to keep up with a speaker, and there are even tales that Caesar kept six amanuenses going at once. It is certainly a long jump from that to the handy girl of today, whose swift pencil easily keeps up with a man's utterances.

Few people at the present day have any just or correct understanding of phonetics. The average person confuses the names of a letter of the alphabet with the sound which it is supposed to represent, fails to distinguish between diphthongs like long "i" and the simple vowel sounds, and in many ways betrays the fact that he is quite without a phonetic sense. The teaching of stenography has spread a knowledge of phonetics, and in the long run must produce a much more general realization of the ridiculousness and wastefulness of our present system of spelling the English language.

ALPINE GRANDEUR AMAZING

Nature Has Wrought Great Changes to Uplift Their Magnificent Peaks—Volcanic Work.

Nothing in the world's history is more impressive than the story of the Alps. Ten or twelve million years ago, possibly far more, a long unseen line of weakness, a crack or fissure in the earth's crust, stretched away from France eastward hundreds of miles. On this line followed huge volcanic outbursts.

Next ensued a vast slow subsidence, which went on through geologic epochs until where Mont Blanc now rears its summit 15,780 feet was a sea fringing an old continent. Large rivers emptied into it. Deposits of mud, sand, gravel were laid one on another as the sinking went on until the layers became 50,000 feet, or nearly ten miles, thick.

Then at last commenced a great uplifting; the struggling subterranean forces raised a huge load. For ages this went on until the rocks, crumbled, crushed, contorted, rose above the waters and continued to rise, forming lines of mountain chains and making Switzerland a tableland.

Every hour since then rain and snow, river, glacier and avalanche have been sculpturing into peaks and carving into lakes and valleys that vast platform with its recent sedimentary covering and primeval granite core.

The result is a land of unequalled grandeur.

Robin's Peculiar Affection.

A robin which Edward Beltrando, a Red Lion (Pa.) shoemaker, saved from a cat has developed such an affection for its rescuer that when other robins in the vicinity migrated it remained behind.

Although the bird was never caged it does not stray far from the shoemaker's shop, coming there at intervals during the day and sleeping in the shop every night.—New York World.

City Men Better Developed.

City men are better developed than country men, according to the report of a German army surgeon, who bases his statement on the result of the examination of 10,000 soldiers. He says the farmers were inferior in carriage and in development of bone and muscle, and that he found among them more cases of curvature of the spine, flat-foot and varicose veins than among the city men.

Economy Urged.

"Economy" has become a word of unusual interest in the last year though naturally to a less extent in the United States than in Europe. Our training has not fitted us to appreciate its dignity and cultural worth in both theory and practice.—American Cookery Magazine.

Shipping Industry Worried.

Lake Superior shipping interests declare that they will never be able to move the 55,000,000 tons of iron ore at which the demands of next year's steel contracts have been estimated. The big Minnesota mines are at the height of their prosperity along with the rest of the steel industry.

CAT FEEDS STARVING DOG

Strange Pair Live Eight Days on Dried Elk Meat Which Pussay Furnished Companion.

Deputy Game Warden Brown is looking for the hunter who killed an elk in the foothills of the Olympics and left the greater portion of it dried in a small cabin, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Brown's discovery of the elk meat deals with the wanderings of an Alre-dale dog.

Brown borrowed the dog from a friend when he started into the hills on a general hunt for lawbreakers, and when well up in the mountains he lost the dog. He failed to locate the animal, and later came to town, thinking it had returned to its home. When he arrived he found that the dog had not appeared, so he started out again to try to locate the animal.

Brown luckily stumbled upon a small cabin well up in the mountains, and here found the dog. Brown investigated the shack and found it well supplied with elk meat, but on the rafters was a small domestic cat that had become wild. The dog had come across the cat, which had sought refuge in the rafters of the cabin. When hungry the cat ate the dried elk meat and dropped pieces to the dog below, both living for more than eight days in this manner.

SYMPATHY FOR A BACHELOR

Never Since History of Man Began Has He Been the Marked Man He Is Today in Europe.

If single men continue to be singled out as victims for tax collectors and recruiting sergeants, the great trinity of human rights will be changed to read, "life, liberty and matrimony." For where can the bachelor find happiness in a world that marks his income as the first to be seized by a rapacious state and his precious person as the first to be exposed to the enemy's bullets?

Never since the history of man began has the bachelor been the marked man he is today, a writer in the Brooklyn Eagle asserts. In England Premier Asquith's famous promise was given to the married men, the conscription bill excepts the married men, the state supports the wives and children of enlisted married men. In France the state supports not only the legally established wives but those whom soldiers acknowledge as their "wives," the assumption being that the legal ceremony will follow when the war comes to an end. Thus even the man who promises to become married is favored by the state.

And as for taxes, the bachelor has long been the victim of his own discretion. Even Uncle Sam, who is ordinarily the least given to making invidious distinctions among his citizenry, grants the married man a $4,000 exemption on the income tax. In Europe the discrimination against the bachelor is much more marked—so marked, in fact, that bachelorhood is more of a luxury than a limousine.

HIS JEWELRY SCATTERED

"His girl is wearing his ring."
"And his uncle has his watch."

NOT QUITE CLEAR.

"Did I understand you to say that a change of climate had been recommended for you?" asked the bank president.

"Yes, sir," replied the cashier. "That is why I desire an earlier vacation than usual."

"Um-yes," mused the b. p. "By the way, who recommended the change, your physician or your attorney?"

WHAT DID HE MEAN?

Wife—And will you miss me while I am away, dear?

Husband—You bet I will.

Wife—Well, that's some consolation to me.

Husband—And to me also, dear.

Wife—But why to you?

Husband—It will be a consolation to have the pleasure of missing you.

CRUEL NECESSITY.

"Love is all in all, says this poet."

"In a fine frenzy, no doubt."

"You can't always tell. He may have written this sonnet to pay the butcher."

THE USUAL WAY.

Biggs—I hear you are financially embarrassed; is it true?

Diggs—No; my creditors seem to be a little embarrassed, but I'm not.

ITS IDEA.

"I see where they are making paper out of brewery hop refuse."

"That shows how modern invention keeps on the jump."

CYNICAL EXPLANATION.

"Truth is stranger than fiction," said the serious citizen.

"Naturally," replied Senator Sorghum. "It's so much scarcer."

APPROPRIATE REMEDY.

"Doctor, what shall I take for that run-down feeling?"

"I should recommend a pick-me-up."

For Nice Job Work Come Here

Which way do you work?

You can't afford to cultivate in the old slow back-breaking way. The Planet Jr way takes the drudgery out of labor, and produces bigger, better crops. Planet Jrs are the greatest time-savers ever invented for farm or garden; and the most economical cultivating tools you can use.

Planet Jr tools are the product of a practical farmer's inventive genius and manufacturing experience of half a century. Last a lifetime. Fully guaranteed.

No. 4 Planet Jr Combined Hill and Drill Seeder, Wheel-Hoe, Cultivator and Plow pays for itself in a single season in the family garden as well as in larger acreage. Sows all garden seeds (in drills or hills), plows, opens furrows and covers them, hoes and cultivates easily and thoroughly all through the season.

No. 11 Planet Jr Combined Double and Single Wheel-Hoe, Cultivator, Plow and Rake. Straddles crops till 20 inches high, then works between rows with one or two wheels. The plows open furrows and cover them. The cultivator teeth work deep or shallow. The hoes are wonderful weed-killers. The rakes do fine cultivation and gather up trash. Unbreakable steel frame. 14-inch steel wheels and specially hardened steel—both new this year. The greatest hand-cultivating tool in the world.

Thousands of Planet Jr hand-tools (seed drills and wheel-hoes) are used in kitchen gardens. We make 32 styles—various prices. You can't afford to work without a Planet Jr. Come in and let us prove it to you.

HENRY FORD IS REAL CANDIDATE

Washington, D. C., April 17.—Henry Ford is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. Encouraged by his victory in Michigan over Senator William Alden Smith, his representatives, who have been here, have gone to Philadelphia and Harrisburg and on next Tuesday Ford papers as candidate in the presidential race will be filed at Harrisburg.

It is understood that Rudolph Spreckles, of California, who organized the Wilson Republican club in 1912, is backing Henry Ford and that the latter will seek to secure delegates in those states in which delegates have not yet been selected, chiefly as the representative of those in Republican party who oppose Roosevelt and Roosevelt's extreme preparedness policy.

Ford has already filed in the Nebraska primary.

MAYOR'S CLEAN-UP
PROCLAMATION.

A wise custom having been established in this city of taking extraordinary precaution to prevent disease and to promote and inculcate wholesome ideas of sanitation and civic beauty, by setting aside a certain period during which all citizens are expected to give special attention to the removal and destruction of waste materials, dirt and filth, as well as the beautification of their premises.

I, F. K. Yost, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Hopkinsville, do call upon all its citizens to lend their help and co-operation to promote these objects the week of April 24th to 29th, to the betterment of our health and civic pride. Let us clean up, paint up, make necessary repairs and plant flowers, increasing the beauty of each citizen's surroundings and making Hopkinsville an even more desirable and attractive place of residence.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal this 18th day of April, 1916.
